

Molera Statement

Some Chihuahuas have a "soft spot" on the top of the head called the molera or fontanel. While some are born without it, there are probably just as many born with one and its presence is nothing to become alarmed over. Those individuals unfamiliar with the molera might try to associate it with the condition known as hydrocephalus. A molera does not predispose the Chihuahua to this condition.